

It's So Early

Anne Gregson

It's so ear - - ly that the moon still thinks it's night.

6
S. Stars are fad-ing with the first ros - y light

9
S. ov - er the hill the sun will come up soon

13
S. That big red sun brings a brand new day. Bring me the new start

19
S. I've been long - ing for What have you got in store to - day?

25
S. For all of the time I have wast - ed For all of the dreams that were

32
S. lost a - long the way. I'll give ev-ery-thing I've got to this new day.

37
S. It's so ear - - ly that the moon still thinks it's night.

43
S. Stars are fad-ing with the first ros - y light ov - er the hill the

48
S. sun will come up soon ov - er the hill the sun will come

52
S. up soon soon soon soon soon